Napoleon Bonaparte (born Napoleone di Buonaparte) 15 August 1769 - 5 May 1821) Framed signed letter from Napoleon to Nicolas Francois, Count Mollien, dated 1806. He was a French military and political leader who rose to prominence during the French Revolution and led several successful campaigns during the Revolutionary Wars. He was the de facto leader of the French Republic as First Consul from 1799 to 1804. As Napoleon I, he was Emperor of the French from 1804 until 1814 and again in 1815. Napoleon's political and cultural legacy has endured, and he has been one of the most celebrated and controversial leaders in world history, frame size approx 52cm x 63cm (Transcribed to English "I am reading your report from the 7th on the Grand Army payment situation. I find that you are doing too many subtractions and additions in your statements which makes them complicated, instead of simplifying them. You analyse several times in this report, you have to analyse only once, and present one statement including receipt and expenditure, if not, it extraordinarily tires my memory. It results from your report that to pay January and April, February and May balance, 17 million would be needed, that there is only approximately 12 million in available funds, and that 3,069,000 were spent. I am requesting the spending statement of these 3,069,000."). Ex Einfeld Collection.
